FALL IN LINE.

The fracas at the polls yesterday between the Judges of Election was an undignified and disgraceful affair. The right and the wrong of the question is rather mixed in its aspects, and the inauguration of a discussion on the subject is anything but expedient at this time. Some have attached a political significance to the fact that Mr. Coffin so far forgot the dignity of the office he represented as to strike Judge Harris in the face. Harris did not forget his position under the peculiarly trying circumstances, but his illadvised protest of Burlingame's vote is not endorsed as good policy by a majority of Republicans. Burlingame's reply to Harris, who was acting as a Judge of Election, was insulting. This affair however, was nothing more than a personal difficulty between individuals, and neither wing of the party wholly endorses the act of its Judges. There is no reason however, why the affair of yesterday need create a particle of party discord. The Stalwarts have bragged that they never bolted a ticket or refused to work for it, and now of all others is the time to show their faith by their works. At the present writing the ballots have not been counted, but there is hardly a question of a doubt but that the ticket nominated at the Garfield and Arthur club meeting was elected by a large majority. No one can say that it was not fairly elected, and it is all nonsense to assert that it sprang from an accidental circumstance. A good many men stayed away from the polls because of the trouble, and a few held that by so doing they had acquired the right to bolt the ticket if it did not suit them. We hope that those who feel this way will get over their pouting before the day is over and work for the ticket nominated by Saturday's Convention. There was considerable excitement on the streets last night after the polls closed but it soon died out, and on all sides there was a disposition to harmonize old differences, and let bygones be things of the past. We hope there will be a big ratification meeting after the ticket is nominated, and every Republican in Ormsby county will adopt "no bolting" as his motto. The ticket advocated by the APPEAL has been beaten, but not so badly but that we can pull for the winning ticket like a pair of thousand dollar mules. The row at the primaries was a necessary thing, as it allowed everybody to let off their superfluous steam and now there is nothing left to do but to fall in line, close up the ranks and order a general advance. Let there be party harmony and plenty of it.

UNITE EVERYTHING.

When the Convention meets on Saturday it has it in its power to harmonize all conflicting elements of the Republican party. We would like to see this so effectually done that the terms Stalwart and Dolly Varden will be no longer heard of in political discussions. Let them be buried in the same grave together and may no hand ever disturb their bones. The ticket which won can best assert its claims as an unpledged ticket by making such selections as will remove all idea of a slate and cause all opposing factions to unite for the common welfare of the party.

It is stated that the Czar's marriage with the Princess Dalgorki was privately celebrated a month ago, the witnesses being the two Russian Ministers, Adlerberg and Milutine, and Gen. Baranoff. Even the Czarowitz, it is said, urged the hastening of the nuptials, the only condition imposed by him being, that until the abdication of the Czar, changes in the Ministry should be submitted to the heir to the throne.

Senator Burnside tells this story at the expense of his colleague, Senator Anthony: They were dining together one day when ham formed one of the dishes. "If ever I turn farmer," said Mr. Anthony, "I shall raise plenty of calves so that I can get some nice hams like this."

The Boston Herald thinks that Polk Walker, the Confederate Secretary of War, is likely to be the new United States Senator from Alabama.

Gen. John F. Miller has carried the Republican primaries of San Francisco against Senator Booth, and is likely to be the next Senator from California.

AN OUTSIDE OPINION.

When a Nevada paper speaks of a leading candidate of its own State all sorts of reasons are charged for its course. If a man is criticised it is at once argued that the writer wants to be bribed to keep still, and if he is endorsed the rumor goes abroad that some one is bought up. We are free to admit that politicians and newspapers have acted in such a manner in this state that such suspicions are frequently warranted. The Truckee Republican, a California newspaper, which can have no object in view but an attempt at honest criticism, draws the following accurate pen portrait of Col. Fair, and we challenge a Democratic paper to point out any instance of faulty drawing or false shading:

There is joy among the unwashed all over the country, because "Slippery Jim" Fair has consented to be a candidate for United States Senator. Why Mr. Fair's candidacy should send such a gleam of hope through the breasts of the Democracy east and west is a mystery, unless it is expected he can buy his way into such an exalted position. It is not the ability, education or honesty of the man that recommends him, for he possesses neither qualifications. His connection with the Comstock mines as a miner, may be, and doubtless is an honor to him, but his manipulation of the shares of those mines in company with James Flood, is a crying shame and a dishonor to anyone bearing the semblance of a man. The twain have robbed more men, broken more hearts and destroyed more homes than all the criminals in San Quentin put together. With the diamond drill in Fair's hands at the mines and the unscrupulous misrepresentations of Flood at the stock boards, the people have been literally robbed in open daylight. It is said Fair is honored by the working miners because he has given employment to them. But it was not the money of "Slippery Jim" that paid them for their work. It has been the hard earned dollars of the chambermaid, the cook and the poor of other occupations, wrung from them by cruel misrepresentations, fraud and treachery, that has paid these miners their wages. And now it is proposed to take some of the millions thus filched from the public, and buy a place of honor with them. The gains gathered by villainous conspiracies are to be used in deaaching the people, and thus adding bribery to the long list of crimes in stock gambling. We don't believe it will work, unless the people of the Silver State are as corrupt and dishonest as the great firm whose wealth was stolen from them.
